

BEWARE OF THE GREASE GRINCH

It's holiday time and we're kitchen tornadoes
Cooking turkey and fruit cake and yams and potatoes.
But beware of the Grease Grinch! He'll clog in a blink!
He'll gunk up your pipes! He'll stink up your sink!

All the pan drippings from ham and from roast,
The leftover bits from your frenchy French toast,
The lettuce from salads all covered with dressing,
The mystery casserole that still has us guessing...

Bacon grease, meat water, sauces and gravy
Should NEVER be poured down the drain. That's just crazy!
When the grease is too hot, pour it in a container
Like an empty tin can; it's a simple no-brainer.

Into the trash is where all grease should go,
Scrape, wipe or freeze are the methods to know.
Follow these steps and your holiday's saved,
Your drain will be happy, the Grease Grinch, behaved.

FROM askHRgreen.org, ALL THE BEST.

AND WE HOPE YOU DON'T HAVE A VERY GREASE-MESS.
